With Panasonic's product finder for sensors, selecting the best sensor is easier than ever. Thanks to the keyword search and the combinable filter functions, it takes only seconds to find the sensor best suited for your application and meeting your technical requirements. The fast and easy way to select the right product from our wide range of sensors.

After preselecting the product group, limit your search with the help of filters. Filter criteria are displayed automatically depending on the product group you have selected. Among others, choose from the following criteria:
- Resolution
- Sensing range
- Response time
- Degree of protection
- Analog output (yes/no)
- Connection method (cable/connector/…)
- Digital outputs (NPN/PNP/relay)
- Dimensions
- Power supply
- Type
- Temperature range
- ... and many more

For a quick overview of the selected products, use the compare function. Generate a PDF and send it to colleagues and customers.

Create a data sheet in PDF format with the selected products and send it to your colleagues and customers.

You have questions about the product? Send us your question by mail, and our specialists will get back to you as soon as possible.
